

THE GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20.

Hannibal Hamlin, the only living ex-president of the United States, will travel all the way from Maine to Missouri to attend the Grand Army of the Republic encampment. Mr. Hamlin has just completed his 75th year.

A good many democratic papers are poking fun at Blaine's "magnanimity." But before the election is over next year, the democrats will swap their best inheritance, which is Cleveland, for a candidate having a little of the Blaine magnanimity in him.

A wise remark from a democratic paper—the New York Sun: "Those people who imagine that the war veterans are ready to be laid upon the shelf are making a mistake. Their annual meetings are numerous and enthusiastic, as the coming one of the Grand Army of the Republic is likely to show."

"The rapid growth of Northern Wisconsin consequent upon the iron discoveries there," said S. C. Sweet, who is connected with the postoffice department, and has just returned from the west, "is instigated by the fact that fifteen new postoffices have been established in the iron district known as Gogebic Range since January 1st, 1887."

The forest area of the United States is less than 450,000,000 acres, or 730,000 square miles, or about one-fifth the area of the whole country. For railroad lines alone the wood on 500,000 acres (390 square miles) is required annually. Some idea of the rapid reduction of our forests may be gathered from the fact that in 1853 Ohio had forest equal to 55 per cent of the area of the state, now it is not over 20 per cent. Droughts and destructive floods are among the results of the destruction of our forests.

Ex-speaker Carlisle, who has just returned home to Covington, Kentucky, after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland, said to a reporter who questioned him about the president's chances for re-nomination: "Why, he will be unanimously endorsed, democrats east, west north and south are ready to pool their forces and give him an over whelming majority. Certainly Mr. Cleveland will accept the nomination if tendered him. To be sure he will accept it. The democrats have no one else they can nominate."

"The Collector," a publication devoted to autographs and photograph collectors, offers to sell one of Jefferson Davis' autographs for $4, while it offers a President's autograph for $10. Thus we see that Davis is one of the worst blows that Mr. Davis has ever received.

This shows that people hold different estimates of traitors. But probably after Jeff Davis has been dead as long as Benedict Arnold has, people will think better of him. Some men are more popular dead than alive.

The Albany, New York Express, makes the following comment on a little incident attending Mr. Cleveland's journey to Philadelphia:

A hot journal delayed President Cleveland's arrival at Philadelphia yesterday. If Governor is of a superstitious turn of mind he will see in this incident an ominous warning of the way in which hot journals all over the country will delay, indefinitely, his arrival at a second term.

Yes, and some of the hottest journals will be found in the democratic party.

Mr. Carl Schurz, who fought for Cleveland in '84, also thinks this is a good time to think and not to talk. He absolutely refuses to say a word about politics—he even declines to receive the confidence of Mr. Cleveland's friends. He has gone out of politics, apparently, and into business, as he has just paid $1,800,000 for the Buffalo and Philadelphia railroad, acting for a New York syndicate.

A good many of the newspapers have gone out of politics since 1884, and you will find lots of them who would give two dollars and a half if they had not supported Cleveland that year.

The Brooklyn (N. Y.) Free Press, which went over to Cleveland in 1884, has come back to the republican party and promises to do effective work against the corrupt democratic ring in Brooklyn. There is ample opportunity for such work, and Editor Hoar will find the republican party in excellent condition to make a winning fight this fall.

When the Free Press went over to the democracy in 1884, the democrats had a good deal to say about Mr. Hoar being one of the most accomplished German scholars in Brooklyn. Now that he has come back into the republican fold, these same democrats will likely speak of him as a "facilitating Dutchman."

According to the Railway Age more than one-half of the railroad building for the first eight months of 1887 has been constructed in four states—Kansas, Texas, Nebraska and Colorado, and the territory of Dakota. With the Indian Territory, California, Montana, and Illinois, six states and three territories furnish about 70 per cent of the whole mileage of 6,492 miles. Kansas has built 1,184 miles, almost as much as the entire mileage constructed in the United States east of the Mississippi river and nearly 20 per cent of the total. Texas has 605 miles of new road; Nebraska, 556; Dakota, 491; the Indian Territory, 448; Colorado, 403; Montana, 218, and Illinois, 210. New England roads but 27 miles, 11 of which are in Maine and 16 in Massachusetts. The south makes a fair showing. Texas is only second to Kansas. Alabama reports 189 miles of road; Georgia 135 miles; North Carolina, 124; Florida, 83, and Arkansas, 84; but Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky contribute only 216 miles all told. The three most populous states have built but 175 miles—New York, 52; Pennsylvania, 49 and Ohio 80 miles.

The discussion on the treasury surplus question still goes on among that class of economists and financiers who seem to believe that there is some financial difficulty going on which keeps five or six hundred millions of dollars in "lock-up" in the treasury, as they call it. The Gazette has several times explained the "surplus," and so have other republican papers, but the narrow-minded democrats who do not want any surplus are continually finding fault because the government is able to lay by a little money over and above what it costs to run the government. Now Ben Butler, in the Boston Globe, comes to the surface long enough to say that there is a surplus of $600,000,000 in the United States treasury that is of no use there, is lying idle, creating a money stringency, and ought to be distributed among the people. Of this surplus so distributed, he says Massachusetts ought to have $25,000,000. In answer to this statement the Chicago Times comes forward with another explanation, which, in substance, is as follows: There is in the treasury $598,066,850. Of this sum $282,089,554 is in gold coin bullion, of which $100,000,000 is held to redeem greenbacks, and $88,765,554 to redeem outstanding gold certificates. There is $218,298,298 in silver coin and bullion in the treasury, against which there is $147,876,385 in certificates outstanding. The sum of $7,130,000 in currency is in the treasury, against which certificates for the entire amount are outstanding. And the sum of $183,951,605 is held in the treasury for the redemption of national bank notes. These and other items, according to the Times, make up about $494,000,000, leaving about $99,000,000 out of which there are now to be paid $10,000,000 accrued interest and $50,000,000 due on current expenses. The "surplus" is thus figured down to $33,000,000.

The election on the prohibitory amendment in Tennessee, takes place on Thursday, the 29th of this month. There is no telling what the result will be, but there seems to be a fighting chance for the amendment. Miss Frances Willard, who is doing some work in the state for the amendment, makes the statement that the things which will defeat prohibition if it is defeated at all, are the disfranchisement of women, the negro vote, and the possible effect of the four-mile law. While Miss Willard is professing to work for the amendment, she is adopting, in a measure, the method which defeated prohibition in Michigan. She charges that the republican party is opposed to the amendment, which, of course, is an unwarranted statement. That kind of campaigning will never work to the advantage of prohibition. It seems to operate against it. She and other prohibition speakers, take great delight in abusing all those in Tennessee who do not agree with them, which shows that they are not philosophers. A shrewd person will catch flies with molasses, and political molasses must be used to catch votes with. Miss Willard also makes the statement that all the ministers in the state, except the Episcopalians, are unanimous for the amendment, and likewise the lawyers are solid for it. But the Chattanooga Times, after canvassing the question, says there are hundreds of ministers, lawyers, educators and legislators who are opposed to the amendment. So how the matter does stand is hard to determine thus far from the battle field and with so many contradictory reports coming from two sides of action. It is hoped, however, that the amendment will carry. It will be a good thing for Tennessee if the saloons are driven from the state. A democratic statesman who is opposing the amendment, declares that the state will lose seventeen million dollars a year in trade if the amendment is adopted. That is all right. The loss will be in the sale of liquor and in nothing else.

Cured of Malaria.
22 FLORIDA ST., ELIZABETH, N. J.
March 17, 1884.—I have been using Dr. Price's Peppermint Cure for the last five years. Some two years ago, after having been sick for upwards of six months with malaria, I found myself with an enlarged spleen, dyspepsia, and constantly troubled with a headache, and my kidneys did not act very well either. My physician spent most of my money for medicine and medical advice, I thought to save expense I would use Dr. Price's Peppermint Cure, two or three times a day, and one on the pit of the stomach, just under the breast-bone. I continued using the Peppermint Cure thirty days, changing them every week. At the end of that time I was feeling well, and have remained so ever since.

Veterans on the Way to St. Louis.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Fifty carloads of Grand Army veterans and their friends left this city, Los Angeles and San Diego last night to attend the National encampment at St. Louis. Four special trains were made up to carry the excursionists, who number fully 2,200.

The Nevada Bank's Trouble.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—President Fair of the Nevada Bank, asserts that neither Flood nor Nevada knew anything about his connection with the great western bank which failed last night. The bank's loss was between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000.

National Finances.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The Government receipts so far this month exceed expenditures by $15,278,280. A deduction from this sum must be made, however, on account of the bonds purchased, which do not appear in the statements until the end of the month.

Indian Governors.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The Sioux Indians in Dakota complain that the boundaries of their reservation are not well defined, and that the Government is using the land for the purpose of the allotment of their lands in severalty.

VERY UNPLEASANT.

The Alleged Snubbing of Governor Foraker by Mrs. Cleveland.

DIFFERENT VERSIONS OF THE AFFAIR.

It is Claimed by Eye-Witnesses That Ohio's Chief Executive was Slighted—Others Claim That the Lady's Action was Unintentional.

BOTH SIDES OF THE STORY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—There is considerable gossip in Washington about the alleged snubbing of Governor Foraker by Mrs. Cleveland at the Philadelphia reception yesterday. Whether or not Governor Foraker was snubbed can be learned only from Mrs. Cleveland, and she is not likely to talk about the matter. It is a fact, however, that at the President's reception last Friday night Mrs. Cleveland did not extend her hand to Governor Foraker and his wife—at least the members of Governor Foraker's staff who accompanied him agree that such is the fact. As related by these gentlemen, the facts are these:

Governor Foraker was received by Governor Weaver and his wife, who shook hands with the President and Mrs. Cleveland. When Governor Foraker reached the President the former extended his hand, which was grasped by the President. Mrs. Foraker was presented by the Governor, and the usual United States protocol was followed. The Governor moved toward Mrs. Cleveland with extended hand, but the lady declined to accept it, instead both her hands, holding them in front of her with arms extended, and the Governor, who was standing close to her, subsequently called on Governor Foraker and expressed regret at it, remarking that it was the only unpleasant event that had taken place during the three days' celebration.

PUNAMOUTH, Sept. 20.—Said President Cleveland: "I can not remember one solitary unpleasant or jarring circumstance connected with the visit." Mrs. Cleveland remarks that she had determined to please every body, if that were possible. She expressed herself as annoyed at the report that she had snubbed Governor Foraker, of Ohio, and said she decided that it was untrue. During the visit Mrs. Cleveland was in charge of Chairman Thomas M. Thompson, and she did just what he told her. Mr. Thompson yesterday denied emphatically that Mrs. Cleveland had snubbed Governor Foraker or any one else. He said:

"I take the full responsibility of denying that Mrs. Cleveland intentionally failed to salute Governor and Mrs. Foraker, and that she refused to take their hands. Mrs. Cleveland was guided by me as to when to continue or discontinue the handshaking, and if Governor Foraker had his wife passed by without being taken by the hand it was during one of the intervals of rest which I wanted the guests to take, and in which she had promised she would be guided by me. That is a silly one, as was the tale of Mrs. Cleveland turning her back on Governor Foraker during the parade Friday. I had myself taken Mrs. Cleveland over to Mr. Callahan's luncheon at the Bellevue Hotel ten minutes or more before the parade came along. The President treated Governor Foraker with the same courtesy as he did the other Governors, and Mrs. Cleveland had no idea of respecting any personal or political differences upon any occasion."

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.—Governor Foraker left this city yesterday morning. His private secretary, Mr. Kurtz, speaking of the report that the Governor was slighted by Mrs. Cleveland at Philadelphia, said that the Governor was unwilling to talk about the matter, but that he would tell the truth. The President was not at liberty to talk if they saw proper to do so.

Mr. Kurtz' information, received direct from the Governor, is that on the evening of the reception the Governor, on the way from his hotel, remarked to his wife that he had heard that Mrs. Cleveland had turned her back on him and the Grand Army men as they passed during the day in the procession, but that he did not believe it. He added that if it were true Mrs. Cleveland might place them in an embarrassing position at the reception by refusing to speak to them. Mrs. Foraker replied that Mrs. Cleveland was too much of a woman to do anything of the kind and he need have no fear. As they moved along with the line of guests at the reception the Governor noted that all were looking at him. He and Mrs. Foraker reached the President the latter took the hand of the Governor coolly. Mrs. Foraker was presented to the President by the hand of the President and his wife. When the latter took the hand of the Governor, Mrs. Foraker was presented to the President coolly. Mrs. Foraker was presented to the President by the hand of the President and his wife. When the latter took the hand of the Governor, Mrs. Foraker was presented to the President coolly.

Measures to Build Up Our Navy.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—It is expected that at the opening session of Congress much time will be devoted to naval affairs. The Administration will again push the proposition for the reorganization of the Bureau of the Navy Department, and the new purchase system will also be brought prominently before the National legislators, while a number of other matters will be pressed.

Settlers on Railroad Lands.
DERRIN, Mich., Sept. 20.—Homesteaders are rushing into the village near the terminus of a new line of railroad lands recently taken away from a railroad company by a ruling of the Interior Department. The lands comprise 258,000 acres of unoccupied and unimproved mineral lands, hardwood and farming lands.

Extensive Helio-Work Destroyed.
HARTFORD, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Jacob Lorthard's brick works, the largest in the United States, were destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. The flames started in the dry room and soon spread to all parts of the building, which were entirely destroyed with their contents. Loss $500,000. No insurance. The works will be rebuilt.

DYNAMITE FOR CUBA.

Fresh Disclosures Regarding the Anticipated Insurrection.

Discovery of a Plot to Blow Up the City of Havana with All Its People.

Affairs Believed to be More Serious than was at First Supposed.

(Special to the Gazette.)

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 20.—A dispatch from Key West says that a cartload of dynamite has been found hidden in the woods near that city. The quantity was sufficient to have blown up the entire city of Havana, and was believed to have been intended for that purpose.

The discovery has caused intense excitement and is taken as proof that the plot against Cuba was more formidable than was at first supposed.

THE INTER-STATE COMMISSION.

An Alleged Violation of the Law to Be Tried in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—The members of the Inter-State Commerce Commission arrived at the Palmer House at eleven o'clock last evening. They came direct from St. Paul, where they were engaged last week in hearing complaints against several railroads for violations of the Interstate act.

The only case to be discussed at present is the charges against the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railway by David T. Allen & Bro., of Franklin, Clinton County, Ind. The complaint charges that the company's freight rates on grain, which is rated sixth class, is twenty-three cents per 100 for the carload from Indianapolis, Ind., to New York, New York, and is forty-seven cents per 100 from New York, Ind., to New York. The complaint asks the commission to impose a fine on the company for this violation of section 4 of the Interstate act and to afford the complainants relief in the future from exorbitant charges.

RIOT AT A RACE.

Disappointed spectators in London Demolished Two Grand Stands and Other Buildings.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—A great crowd assembled at Whitebridge yesterday to see a foot-race between Gents and Hotties for the championship of the world. The race was declared off, and the management refused to refund the entrance money, whereupon a serious riot ensued. The mob demolished all the buildings on the grounds and set fire to the stands, after which they looted the liquor-stalls in the neighborhood. The mob was finally dispersed, and three of the rioters arrested. Four constables were badly wounded, and one man who had been in the thick of the fight against the mob fell dead from excitement.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

An Italian Clubbed to Death by Two Brothers Who Are Arrested.

DONOVAN, Ia., Sept. 20.—It has just been learned here that two brothers, while driving home near New Hampton, Saturday night, were assaulted, beaten by clubs and knocked out of their vehicle. His team ran away, and the victim crawled half a mile to his neighbor's house, leaving a trail of blood along the way. He died soon afterward, accusing John and Joseph Franz of murdering him in settlement of an old grudge. The Franzes were arrested early Sunday morning after making a show of resistance with loaded guns.

New Mexican Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Governor Ross, of New Mexico, in his annual report, says the population of the Territory is rapidly increasing. Only thirty-eight miles of railroad have been constructed during the year. The mining interests are reviving. Agriculture is extending, and the great cattle ranches are destined soon to become things of the past. The Governor recommends the repeal of all laws under which lands can be secured without actual residence and bona-fide improvements; also the establishment of a system of storage lands along the upper Rio Grande.

Base-Ball.

National League games on Monday resulted as follows: At Chicago—Chicago, 9; Washington, 0. At Pittsburgh—New York, 3; Pittsburgh, 3. At Detroit—Philadelphia, 10; Detroit, 1. At Indianapolis—Indianapolis, 10; Boston, 3.

American Association: At Cincinnati—Cincinnati, 2; Louisville, 1. At Baltimore—Baltimore, 10; Brooklyn, 6. At Philadelphia—Philadelphia, 3; Metropolitans, 4.

Northwestern League: At Oshkosh—Oshkosh, 8; St. Paul, 3. At Dubuque—Dubuque, 3; Duluth, 1. At Des Moines (two games)—Eau Claire, 5; Des Moines, 4; Des Moines, 7; Eau Claire, 4.

The Duluth Bank Robbery.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 20.—The facts as to the Duluth bank robbery have at last come out. Cashier Ware received a package containing $20,000 for the Minnesota Iron Company, which was to be called for later in the day. He put it away and went to dinner. When he returned the money was gone. All attempts of the detectives to obtain a clue to the robber have thus far been unsuccessful.
